

The Not So Still Life...

Solarium, 16" x 20", mixed media on canvas

Still Life... for me, these two words never made sense together. "Still Life" contradicts itself.

This current exhibit of my paintings addresses my personal point of view that life, in fact is not still. Life is so full of whoop-it-up... I dare say it's jiggy!

When I was in the studio painting these I felt as though I was in the center ring of a circus. Color was entertaining me from all around. Objects quivered, music twitched and I just tried to keep up with the flick of my brushes.

Creating these paintings was pure sensual and visual pleasure for me.

Enjoy the ride. Yahoo!
